Downloading a VPN will allow you to stream The Stand online no matter where you are. It's a simple bit of software that changes your IP address, meaning that you can access on-demand content or live TV just as if you were at home.Use a VPN to watch American Gods season 3 from abroadHow to watch American Gods season 3 online and stream every episode in the USStarz is the exclusive network in the US for American Gods in the US. Season 3 episodes are being airing aired every Sunday night at 8pm ET/PT from January 9, when the show returns a double-bill. Starz is a premium cable and satellite channel that boasts first-run original television like Power and Outlander, alongside a big helping of Hollywood movies fresh out of the cinema. You can add the channel to your existing TV package, if you like - or if you're looking to cut the cord, you have a couple of alternative options for streaming Starz. You can get a subscription directly from the network itself, but right now we actually recommend getting it through a third-party like Amazon Prime Video. Amazon is worth considering as you can get both a FREE 30-day Prime trial and then a FREE 7-day Starz trial in addition. In both cases, you can cancel at any time, with Prime costing $12.99 a month and Starz running you an additional $8.99 a month - but only if you decide to keep them. Other ways to watch Starz and stream American Gods Getting Starz on a streaming-only basis direct through the network is possible but less transparent. While it's currently offering a deal where access costs just $4.99 a month for the first 6-months, we've thoroughly investigated the sign-up process, T&Cs and more - and it's worryingly unclear exactly what you're committing to and for how long. Even at the point of checkout, you don't get a final payment figure, so there's no way of knowing if you're being charged monthly and your Starz sub is cancellable at any time - or if you're committing to or paying outright for the entire 6-month deal period. It's either an oversight or just plain shabby on the service's part, and hopefully they'll clarify things soon, so potential subscribers can sign up with confidence. And remember, if you do pony up for a streaming service, you can watch it wherever you are - all you need to do it download a good VPN and follow our instructions above.Sports drama: how to watch an NFL live streamHow to watch American Gods online: stream season 3 episodes in CanadaDon't miss: how to get an NHL live stream this seasonHow to watch American Gods season 3 online in the UKUK streaming highlight: watch a Super Bowl 2021 live stream for freeHow to watch American Gods online: stream season 3 episodes in AustraliaMore new TV: how to watch A Discovery of Witches season 2 online American Gods Season 3 -- Courtesy of Jasper Savage/STARZ It's time for two storylines to converge on American Gods Season 3, Episode 3.
